

Protecting your privacy and the privacy of this community as a whole is our duty.

Our system works by recording information every time you use it. The information you provide is shared in systems we control and systems we buy from others. Our system holds information and references it on an ongoing basis.

In your continued use of Emory Bubble or Campus Bubble, henceforth referred to as "Bubble", you are accepting the practices described in this Privacy Policy and the terms describes in the Terms of Service, accessible on www.thecampusbubble.com. Your continued use of this site following the posting of any amendment to this policy shall constitute your acceptance thereof.

The Bubble applications, constitute device agnostic interfaces labeled with Emory Bubble or Campus Bubble. Via web browser on www.emorybubble.com, www.thecampusbubble.com, www.universitycollaboration.com, or by mobile application use. Bubble is provided by a Sponsor. The Sponsor designates administrators with access to all information in our database.

This policy applies to all information collected or submitted on the Bubble. In some instances, you may share files and text, RSVP to events, subscribe to notifications, participate in groups, order products, make requests, and register to receive materials. In other instances, you can submit information about other people. For example, if you have a fellow community member to whom you would like us to send information to, you can submit the recipient's contact information.

Information you submit will be publically available and accessible to validated users upon login. Our registration process validates users via a third party Login System provided by the Sponsor.

Information Collected and Stored

Deleting information from Bubble will make it no longer viewable on Bubble. Although we may keep deleted information, we do not offer any ability to retrieve information that you have deleted. Bubble reserves the right to permanently keep any information you post to our system. There are no "undo" or "restore" functions. A delete button may permanently erase your content from our system. At present, we do not encrypt any user submitted content that is in our database. However, data is encrypted while in transfer. Once data reaches its location, it is no longer encrypted.

While the content exists in our database, it may be accessible to Administrators such as community officials. Members of a private bubble including administrators, the user that created the Bubble, as well as additional participants are responsible for policing content within their Bubble according to community policies as well as the Terms of Use of Campus Bubble. We do not actively monitor, filter, or censor the any portion of the Academic Community Network.

We collect non-personally identifiable information about you in a number of ways, including tracking your activities through your IP address, computer settings, or most-recently visited URL. We may also ask you to provide access to certain non-personally identifiable information about yourself, such as your interests. We do not collect any personally identifiable information about you unless you voluntarily submit such information to us, by, for example, filling out a registration form or logging in. We store all information that you enter into our Web site or Apps or provide to us in any other form. Some of the types of personal information we might collect and store are your:

We also use non-identifying and aggregate information in order to keep our application working reliably. Some of this non-identifying and aggregate information may be shared with others. For example, we might tell a sponsor that a certain number of individuals visited a certain area on our Web site, or that a certain number of men and a certain number of women filled out our registration form, but we would not disclose any information that could be used to identify those individuals.

We may also use information to deliver to you information about our company and promotional material from some of our partners.

Your information may also be used to contact you when necessary and may be shared with other companies that may want to contact you with offers consistent with your stated preferences. Users may opt-out of receiving future mailings from us and other entities by following the instructions set forth in the opt-out section below.

We never use or share the personally identifiable information provided to us online in ways unrelated to the ones described above without also providing you with an opportunity to refuse or otherwise prohibit such unrelated uses.

Data Security

To prevent unauthorized access, maintain data accuracy, and ensure the correct use of information, we use appropriate industry standard security measures, including physical, electronic, and managerial procedures, to safeguard and secure the information we collect online. While there is no such thing as "perfect security" on the Internet, we will take all reasonable steps to ensure the safety of your personal information.

Cookies

A "cookie" is information that is stored on your computer that helps us to identify you as a previously registered user or visitor of our site, which helps to personalize your experience or provide features. Cookies do not spy on you or otherwise invade your privacy, and they cannot invade your hard drive and steal information. Rather, they help you navigate a Web site as easily as possible.

If you prefer not to receive cookies and to remove the feature that allows you to receive them, you can use the Help feature of your Browser to modify your preferences. However, deleting and prohibiting cookies may prevent the Web site from operating correctly and may affect your experience on the Web site.

IP Addresses

We use your IP Address to help diagnose problems with our server, and to administer our Web site.
